

Good afternoon,

My name is Megan Wolleben and I grew up in Aurora and my whole family (The Averys) are deeply embedded in the history and heart of this little village we love.

I am disheartened to hear about this proposed demolition and future development of the McGordan and would like to request the full review of the SEQR.

To me there are many significant negative impacts that need to be voiced and considered.

Immediate impact would be increased construction traffic and dust would impact the lake and the air quality. There is a significant environmental impact of demolishing a structure that, we as a public and community, were not allowed to view to determine if it needs to be torn down.

It will require new materials and the disposal of the current materials would have a long-term negative impact on the environment. Additionally developing the land around negatively affects the surrounding untouched woodlands and area that is currently not developed.

Culture effects may be less visible but Aurora used to be a town and a village where people lived and community blossomed. It is not a corporate project or a wedding venue.

Either way it seems more needs to be discussed and heard before a definitive decision can be made.

Sincerely,

Megan Avery (Rogers) Wolleben.
